

Sample Product Letter to Supplier

Hello [name of vendor],

We are writing to you as part of a growing voice of health care providers who wish to find more sustainable ways to deliver quality healthcare. We have a medical practice in office gynecology and have written many prescriptions for _____. We find it especially effective for our patients with atrophic vaginitis and those with vaginal and uterine prolapse for whom we often prescribe pessaries which we fit and monitor. Our patients like the ease of use and the fact there is less leakage and discharge from this product than with vaginal creams. They are more likely to keep using the product over longer periods of time and have greater success for these women's complaints.

However over the years we have become increasingly concerned about the huge amount of plastic pollution which we are prescribing for our patients and patients are echoing our concerns. Your company has an excellent product in the small estrogen tablet but is contributing to the world wide problem of plastic pollution. One inserter per patient to be used with many months supply of _____ which the patient could load herself in an inserter made from a less polluting product, would be a huge advance. Patients are mentioning this concern to us too.

We hesitate to continue to prescribe a product which can continue to pollute the world and hope you can create a superior inserter. We would appreciate a response to our request at your earliest convenience.

Thank you for your attention to our concerns.

Regards,
